Principal Activities

Results

Total revenue for the year was $370.3m (2012: $343.9m), total funds to international and domestic programs was $221m (2012: $215m) and other expenditure was $150.6m (2012: $127.5m) resulting in a deficit of $1.4m (2012: surplus $1.4m). This was affected by:

- 45% increase in donated pharmaceutical medicines

Review of Operations

Thanks to the ongoing commitment of World Vision Australia's supporters, monetary donations and gifts from the public grew in 2013 to a total of $242.4m.

Revenue from Child Sponsorship grew 1.5% to $188.9m and was supplemented by the first rate rise in six years, which reflects the increasing cost of maintaining the quality and impact of our work in communities around the world. Although the absolute number of children sponsored declined slightly, at balance date 362,125 children were sponsored through World Vision's Child Sponsorship program enabling these children, their families and their communities to benefit.

Donated goods revenue reached $44.5m, an increase of 57%, primarily due to additional shipments of pharmaceutical goods being sourced and provided to the field.

Increased focus on securing grants from outside Australia resulted in an 11.8% increase in grant income and more than offset a decline from Australian-based sources.

A progressive decline in interest rates applicable to cash deposits during 2013 meant that investment income declined by 32%.

Through the generosity of our supporters, in 2013 World Vision Australia was able to increase its commitment to the field. Monetary contributions to our mission through overseas and domestic projects increased by 2.8% to $216.7m and non-monetary contributions such as pharmaceuticals, and World Food Program distributions rose by 32% to $63.0m.

Fundraising costs increased during the year from 11.5% of revenue to 13.4% as deeper investment was made in World Vision Australia's brand and also in diversifying the reach and penetration of our sales and marketing effort.

Ongoing attention to accountability and administration costs resulted in a reduction of 2.4% when compared to 2012, primarily due to lower salary and travel costs.

The net assets position of the company as at 30 September 2013 was affected by the movement in the USD/AUD exchange rate. In line with its hedging policy, the company currently takes out forward contracts to hedge future commitments in US dollars. As at 30 September 2013, the change in fair value of hedging contracts resulted in an increase of $9.8m of net assets compared to the prior year ($2.8m liability at 30 September 2012 to $7.0m asset at 30 September 2013).

Significant Changes in the State of Affairs

No significant changes occurred in the state of affairs of the company during the financial year.

Matters Subsequent to the End of the Financial Year

Apart from the ongoing uncertainty being experienced in the global economy and its impact on World Vision Australia, since the year end no item, transaction or event of a material or unusual nature has arisen that is likely, in the opinion of the Directors, to affect substantially the results of the company's operations in the future.

Likely Developments and Expected Results of Operations

World Vision Australia continues to focus on international development, relief and advocacy. No change to this principal activity is likely.

Directors' Benefits

No Director of the company has received or has become entitled to receive a benefit, because of a contract made by the company, other than as described in Note 21 to the accounts.

Insurance of Officers

The company has paid premiums to insure directors and officers against liabilities incurred by them in defending any legal proceedings arising out of their conduct while acting in the capacity as director or officer

The first developed insights to inform product strategy while the second is part of a series developing an organisational culture of supporter centricity to underpin our organisational design, product offerings and operational activities.

The Board of Directors has considered the position and, in accordance with advice received from the Audit Committee, is satisfied that the provision of the other services are compatible with the general standard of independence for auditors imposed by the Corporations Act 2001. The Directors are satisfied that the provision of other services by the auditor, as set out below, did not compromise the auditor independence requirements of the Corporations Act 2001 for the following reasons:

- (i) All other services have been reviewed by the Audit Committee to ensure they do not impact the impartiality and objectivity of the auditor; and
- (ii) None of the services undermine the general principles relating to auditor independence as set out in APES 110 Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants.

I. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

The principal accounting policies adopted in the preparation of these financial statements are set out below. These policies have been consistently applied to all the years presented, unless otherwise stated.

a) Basis of preparation

These general purpose financial statements have been prepared in accordance with Australian Accounting Standards and other authoritative pronouncements of the Australian Accounting Standards Board and the Corporations Act 2001. 'World Vision Australia' or 'the company' is a not-for-profit entity for the purpose of preparing the financial statements.

Compliance with the Australian Council for International Development Code of Conduct

The company adheres to the Australian Council for International Development (ACFID) Code of Conduct on Financial Reporting and meets the requirements of Section C.2.2 of the Code. Section C.2.2 prescribes the disclosure requirements of the Income Statement, Statement of Financial Position, Statement of Changes in Equity, and Table of Cash Movements for Designated Purposes disclosed in Note 18 (c).

Compliance with IFRS

The financial statements of World Vision Australia also comply with International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS) as issued by the International Accounting Standards Board (IASB).

New and amended standards adopted by the company

None of the new standards and amendments to standards that are mandatory for the first time for the financial year beginning 1 October 2012 affected any of the amounts recognised in the current period or any prior period and are not likely to affect future periods.

Early adoption of standards

The company has elected to apply AASB 13 before its operative date in the annual reporting period beginning 1 October 2012. This is disclosed in Note 1t).

Historical cost convention

The financial reports have been prepared in accordance with the historical cost convention, as modified by the revaluation of financial assets at fair value through profit or loss.

Critical accounting estimates

The preparation of financial statements requires the use of certain critical accounting estimates. It also requires management to exercise its judgement in the process of applying the company's accounting policies. The areas involving a high degree of judgement or complexity, or areas where assumptions and estimates are significant to the financial statements, are disclosed in Note 3.

b) Centralised accounting

The Melbourne office receives all income and is responsible for all expenditure. Branch accounting records have been maintained in accordance with statutory requirements for all State Governments.

c) Revenue recognition

Revenue is recognised to the extent that it is probable that the economic benefits will flow to the company and the revenue can be reliably measured.

World Vision Australia is a not-for-profit organisation and receives the principal part of its income from donations. Amounts donated can be recognised only when they are received by World Vision Australia.

The following specific recognition criteria must also be met before revenue is recognised:

Notes to the Financial Statements
as at 30 September 2013 (continued)

c) Revenue recognition (continued)

(i) Interest Income

Interest income is recognised on a time proportion basis using the effective interest method.

(ii) Donated Goods

These are accepted on the basis they will provide a future benefit. Revenue is brought to account when the goods are received by the intended recipients and is recorded at fair value, which is represented by either wholesale value or an independent valuation.

The fair value of pharmaceutical donated goods is determined by way of a consistent methodology which is underpinned by an independent external valuation company which has appropriate, recognised professional qualifications and experience in the products being valued. The valuation company provides the fair value of the pharmaceutical goods every twelve months.

(iii) Grants

Grants are recognised at their fair value where there is a reasonable assurance that the grant will be received and the company will comply with all attached conditions. Grants relating to costs are deferred and recognised in the income statement over the period necessary to match them with the costs that they are intended to compensate.

(iv) Rendering of Services

Revenue is recognised when the service is rendered.

d) Income tax

No income tax is payable as the company is exempt under Division 50 of the Income Tax Assessment Act, 1997.

e) Property, computer hardware and equipment

Land is recorded at cost. All other property, computer hardware and equipment is stated at historical cost less depreciation. Historical cost includes expenditure that is directly attributable to the acquisition of the items. Computer hardware includes software installed on the hardware asset.

Subsequent costs are included in the asset's carrying amount or recognised as a separate asset, as appropriate, only when it is probable that future economic benefits associated with the item will flow to the company and the cost of the item can be measured reliably. All repairs and maintenance costs are charged to the income statement during the financial period in which they are incurred.

Land is not depreciated. Depreciation on the other assets is calculated using the straight-line method to allocate their cost, net of their residual values, over their useful lives, as follows:

	Years
Buildings	40
Computer Hardware	3-5
Equipment	5-10

The assets' residual values and useful lives are reviewed, and adjusted if appropriate, at each balance sheet date.

An asset's carrying amount is written down immediately to its recoverable amount if the asset's carrying amount is greater than its estimated recoverable amount (Note 1f).

e) Property, computer hardware and equipment (continued)

Gains and losses on disposals are determined by comparing proceeds with carrying amount. These are included in the income statement in the period when the disposal occurs.

f) Impairment of assets

Assets are tested for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount may not be recoverable. An impairment loss is recognised for the amount by which the asset's carrying amount exceeds its recoverable amount. The recoverable amount is the higher of an asset's fair value less costs to sell and value in use. For the purposes of assessing impairment, assets are grouped at the lowest levels for which there are separately identifiable cash inflows which are largely independent of the cash inflows from other assets or groups of assets (cash-generating units).

g) Goods and Services Tax (GST)

Revenues, expenses and assets are recognised net of the amount of associated GST, unless the GST incurred is not recoverable from the taxation authority. In this case it is recognised as part of the cost of acquisition of the asset or as part of the expense.

Receivables and payables are stated inclusive of the amount of GST receivable or payable. The net amount of GST recoverable from, or payable to, the taxation authority is included with other receivables or payables in the balance sheet.

Cash flows are presented on a gross basis. The GST components of cash flows arising from investing or financing activities which are recoverable from or payable to, the taxation authority are presented as operating cash flow.

h) Employee benefits

Short-term obligations

Liabilities for wages and salaries (including non-monetary benefits, annual leave, annual leave loading, long service leave and accumulated sick leave expected to be settled within 12 months after the end of the period in which the employees render the related services) are recognised in respect of employees' services up to the end of the reporting period and are measured at the amounts expected to be paid when the liabilities are settled. The liability for annual leave and long service leave is recognised as a provision. All other short-term employee benefit obligations are presented as payables.

Other long-term employee benefit obligations

The liability for long service leave which is not expected to be settled within 12 months after the end of the period in which the employees render the related services is recognised as a provision and is measured as the present value of expected future payments to be made in respect of services provided by employees up to the end of the reporting period using the projected unit credit method. Consideration is given to expected future wage and salary levels, experience of employee departures and periods of service. Expected future payments are discounted using market yields at the end of the reporting period on national government bonds with terms to maturity and currency that match, as closely as possible, the estimated future cash outflows.

i) Policy on the nature and amount of remuneration of key management personnel

WVA Executives are paid in accordance with the WVA remuneration policy. WVA uses third party methodologies for role grading and annual benchmark reporting. WVA benchmarks its remuneration policy to the 'All Industrials' remuneration market and positions Executives' pay at the bottom 10th percentile of the 'Total Annual Reward' amounts. An annual performance review process is undertaken reflecting the individual's annual performance. The amount available for annual performance based salary increases is determined by the annual movement in the remuneration benchmark.

j) Provisions

Provisions for legal claims, service warranties and make good obligations are recognised when the company has a present legal or constructive obligation when, as a result of past events, it is probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation and the amount has been reliably estimated. Provisions are not recognised for future operating losses.

World Vision Australia has certain operating leases for offices where there is an obligation to return the premises to their original condition when the lease expires or is terminated. A provision for refurbishment costs is recognised over the period of the lease, measured at the expected future cost of refurbishment discounted to a present value at each reporting date.

k) Cash & cash equivalents

Cash includes cash on hand and term deposits held at call with financial institutions that are readily convertible to cash and have an insignificant risk of changes in value.

Funds awaiting remittance to field countries are normally invested in short term deposits and are included as cash and cash equivalents.

l) Foreign currency transactions and balances

Foreign currency is converted into Australian currency at the rate of exchange applicable at the date of the transactions. Amounts receivable and payable in foreign currencies at balance date are converted at the closing rate at reporting date. Foreign currencies held at balance date are converted to Australian dollars at exchange rates ruling at that date.

m) Comparative figures

Comparative figures have been revised to conform to changes in presentation for the current financial year.

n) Receivables

All trade debtors are recognised at the amounts receivable as they are due for settlement not more than 30 days from the date of recognition, and no more than 30 days for other debtors. Collectability of trade debtors is reviewed on an ongoing basis. Debts which are known to be uncollectable are written off. A provision for doubtful debts is raised when there is objective evidence that the company will probably not be able to collect all amounts due according to the original term of the receivable.

o) Investment property

An investment property received by way of a bequest is stated at deemed cost less accumulated depreciation. Investment property is held per the terms of the bequest. Useful life is 40 years, with the property being depreciated over its useful life using the straight-line method.

p) Trade and other creditors

These amounts represent liabilities for goods and services provided to the company prior to the end of the financial year and which are unpaid. These amounts are unsecured and usually paid 25 days after the end of the month in which the company receives the invoice.

q) Inventory and donated goods

Inventory is recorded at the lower of cost and cost less any loss in service potential, or at current replacement cost if there is no associated cost of the goods.

Donated goods are recorded at fair value either by wholesale value or an independent valuation. Where physically received by World Vision Australia, donated goods are held in inventory until the risks and rewards have passed to the receiving entity.

r) Foreign currency hedging

World Vision Australia remits cash to fund overseas projects to the Partnership Treasury Office in US dollars. This central function coordinated by the Partnership Treasury Office ensures the efficient disbursement of funds to projects provided by WVA and other support offices. WVA enters into a series of forward foreign exchange agreements to provide certainty of the total US dollars available to fund projects.

WVA documents, at the inception of the hedging transaction, the relationship between hedging instruments and hedged items, as well as its risk management objective and strategy for undertaking various hedge transactions. WVA also documents its assessment, both at hedge inception and on an ongoing basis, of whether the derivatives that are used in hedging transactions have been and will continue to be highly effective in offsetting changes in cash flows of hedged items.

The fair value of these agreements is recognised in the balance sheet and the hedge relationships entered into are subject to an effectiveness test. Effective unrealised gains and losses are deferred in equity until such time as the remittances occur and any ineffectiveness is taken to the income statement as incurred. WVA expects all current hedge relationships to be highly effective going forward.

The gain or loss relating to the ineffective portion is recognised immediately in the income statement within other income or expenses.

When a hedging instrument expires or is sold or terminated, or when a hedge no longer meets the criteria for hedge accounting, any cumulative gain or loss existing in equity at that time remains in equity and is recognised when the forecast transaction is ultimately recognised in profit or loss within other revenue or other expenses. When a forecast transaction is no longer expected to occur, the cumulative gain or loss that was reported in equity is immediately transferred to the income statement.

s) Leases

Leases in which a significant portion of the risks and rewards of ownership are retained by the lessor are classified as operating leases (Note 25). Payments made under operating leases (net of any incentives received from the lessor) are charged to the income statement on a straight-line basis over the period of the lease.

Notes to the Financial Statements
as at 30 September 2013 (continued)

t) New accounting standards and interpretations

Certain new accounting standards and interpretations have been published that are not mandatory for 30 September 2013 reporting periods. The company's assessment of the impact of these new standards and interpretations is set out below.

AASB 10 Consolidated Financial Statements (effective 1 January 2014)

AASB 10 established a new control model that applies to all entities. It replaces parts of AASB 127 Consolidated and Separate Financial Statements dealing with the accounting for consolidated financial statements under UIG -112 Consolidation – Special Purpose Entities.

The new control model broadens the situation when an entity is considered to be controlled by another entity and includes new guidance for applying the model to specific situations, including when acting as a manager may give control, the impact of potential voting rights and when holding less than a majority voting rights may give control. The company has assessed that there are no entities that it controls for which consolidation is required.

AASB 11 Joint Arrangements (effective 1 January 2014)

AASB 11 replaces AASB 113 Interest in Joint Ventures and UIG -113 jointly controlled Entities – Non-monetary Contributions by Venturers. AASB 11 uses the principal of control in AASB 10 to define joint control, and therefore the determination of whether joint control exists may change. In addition it removes the option to account for jointly controlled entities using proportionate consolidation. Instead, accounting for joint arrangement is dependent on the nature of the rights and obligations arising from the arrangement. Joint operations that give the venturers a right to the underlying assets and obligations themselves is accounted for by recognising the share of those assets and obligations. Joint ventures that give the venturer a right to the net assets are accounted for using the equity method. The company has concluded there are no joint arrangements.

AASB 12 - Disclosure of Interests in Other Entities (effective 1 January 2014)

AASB 12 includes all disclosures relating to an entity's interests in subsidiaries, joint arrangements, associates and structured entities. New disclosures have been introduced about the judgments made by management to determine whether control exists, and to require summarised information about joint arrangements, associates, structured entities and subsidiaries with non-controlling interests. As there are no interests in subsidiaries, joint arrangements, associates and structured entities, this is not applicable and no additional disclosures are required.

AASB 13 - Fair Value Measurement (effective 1 January 2013)

AASB 13 establishes a single source of guidance for determining the fair value of assets and liabilities. The new standard does not change when an entity is required to use fair value, but rather provides guidance on how to determine fair value when fair value is required or permitted. Application of this definition may result in different fair values being determined for the relevant assets. AASB 13 also expands the disclosure requirements for all assets or liabilities carried at fair value. This includes information about the assumptions made and the qualitative impact of those assumptions on the fair value determined. The company has adopted the fair value measurement rules.

t) New accounting standards and interpretations (continued)

AASB 119 Employee Benefit (effective 1 January 2013)

The revised standard changes the definition of short-term employee benefits. The distinction between short-term and other long-term employee benefits is now based on whether the benefits are expected to be settled wholly within 12 months after the reporting date. The company intends to apply the new rules for the first time in the financial year commencing 1 October 2013.

AASB 2012-3 Amendments to Australian Accounting Standard - Offsetting Financial Assets and Financial Liabilities and AASB 2012-2 Disclosures - Offsetting Financial Assets and Financial Liabilities (effective 1 January 2014 and 1 January 2013 respectively)

In June 2012, the AASB approved amendments to the application guidance in AASB 132 Financial Instruments: Presentation, to clarify some of the requirements for offsetting financial assets and financial liabilities in the balance sheet. These amendments are effective from 1 January 2014. They are unlikely to affect the accounting for any of the company's current offsetting arrangements. However, the AASB has also introduced more extensive disclosure requirements into AASB 7 which will apply from 1 January 2013. When these become applicable, the company will provide additional disclosures in relation to its offsetting arrangements, but the company does not expect these changes to be material. The company intends to apply the new rules for the first time in the financial year commencing 1 October 2013.

AASB 2012-5 Amendments to Australian Accounting Standard arising from Annual Improvements 2009-2011 cycle (effective for annual periods beginning on or after 1 January 2013)

In June 2012, the AASB approved a number of amendments to Australian Accounting Standards as a result of the 2009-2011 annual improvements project. The company will apply the amendments from 1 October 2013. The company does not expect that any adjustments will be necessary as the result of applying the revised rules.

AASB 1053 Application of Tiers of Australian Accounting Standards

This standard establishes a differential financial reporting framework consisting of two tiers of reporting requirements for preparing general purpose financial statements:

- (a) Tier 1: Australian Accounting Standards
- (b) Tier 2: Australian Accounting Standards - Reduced Disclosure Requirements

Tier 2 comprises the recognition, measurement and presentation requirements of Tier 1 and substantially reduced disclosure corresponding to those requirements. The company will apply the Tier 1 requirements in preparing general purpose financial statements.

Notes to the Financial Statements

2. Financial risk management

The company's activities expose it to a variety of financial risks: market risk (including currency risk and interest rate risk), credit risk and liquidity risk. The company's overall risk management program focuses on the unpredictability of financial markets and seeks to minimise potential adverse effects on the financial performance of the company. The company uses derivative financial instruments such as foreign exchange contracts to hedge certain risk exposures. Derivatives are exclusively used as hedging instruments, i.e. not for trading or other speculative purposes. The company uses different methods to measure different types of risk to which it is exposed. These methods include sensitivity analysis in the case of interest rate and foreign exchange risk and ageing analysis for credit risk.

Risk management is carried out by senior management under policies approved by the Board of Directors. The Board provides written principles for overall risk management, as well as policies covering specific areas, such as foreign exchange risk, interest rate risk, use of derivative financial instruments and non-derivative financial instruments and investment of excess liquidity.

a) Market risk

(i) Foreign exchange risk

The company operates internationally and is exposed to foreign exchange risk arising from various currency exposures, primarily with respect to the US dollar.

Foreign exchange risk arises from future transactions, current field program commitments and recognised assets and liabilities that are denominated in a currency that is not the entity's functional currency. The risk is measured using sensitivity analysis and cash flow forecasting. Management's policy is to manage foreign exchange risk against the functional currency. Management are required to hedge foreign exchange risk exposure arising from future transactions and current field program commitments using forward contracts.

WVA adopts a conservative approach to the management of foreign currency risk and hedges 80% of the estimated cash field payment for the financial year before the beginning of that financial year.

Approximately 104% (2012: 98%) of projected purchases of foreign currency occur concurrently with anticipated cash flows, which qualifies the transactions as "highly effective" forecast transactions for hedge accounting.

The company's exposure to foreign currency risk at the reporting date was as follows:

	30 September 2013 USD $'000	30 September 2012 USD $'000
Forward Exchange Contracts: Buy foreign currency (cash flow hedges)	164,817	173,288

Organisation Sensitivity

Based on the financial instruments held at 30 September 2013, had the forward rate weakened/strengthened by 10% with all other variables held constant, the company's surplus for the year would have been unchanged. Equity would have been $19,924,873 higher / $16,302,169 lower (2012: $15,018,103 higher / $18,893,496 lower) had the Australian dollar forward rate weakened / strengthened by 10% against the US dollar. The company's exposure to other foreign exchange movements is not material.

a) Market risk (continued)

(ii) Cash flow and fair value interest rate risk

The company's main interest rate risk arises from short term investments. Term deposits issued at variable rates expose the company to cash flow interest rate risk. Term deposits issued at fixed rates expose the organisation to fair value interest rate risk. During 2013 and 2012, the company's term deposits and investments were at fixed rates and were denominated in Australian dollars. As at the reporting date, the company had the following term deposits and investments:

	30 September 2013 $'000	30 September 2012 $'000
Term deposits	11,550	12,500
Cash and bank balances	19,073	22,694
Total	30,623	35,194

Organisation sensitivity

At 30 September 2013, if interest rates had changed by +/-100 basis points from the year-end rates with all other variables held constant, surplus and equity for the year would have been $27,291 higher/lower (2012: $25,685 higher/lower).

b) Credit risk

Credit risk arises from cash and cash equivalents, derivative financial instruments and deposits with banks and financial institutions, as well as credit exposures to other World Vision partnership offices, being outstanding receivables and committed transactions. For banks and financial institutions, only independently rated parties with a minimum rating of 'A' are accepted. The company's total credit risk as at 30 September 2013 is $30,622,541 (2012: $35,193,504) and consists mainly of cash and term deposits.

c) Liquidity risk

Prudent liquidity risk management implies maintaining sufficient cash and marketable securities, the availability of funding through term deposits and the ability to close out market positions. The company manages liquidity risk by continuously monitoring forecast and actual cash flows and matching the maturity profiles of financial assets and liabilities. Surplus funds are generally only invested in instruments that are tradeable in highly liquid markets.

Notes to the Financial Statements

d) Determination of fair value

The fair value of financial assets and financial liabilities must be estimated for recognition and measurement or for disclosure purposes. The fair value of forward exchange contracts is determined using forward exchange market rates at the balance sheet date.

The table below analyses recurring assets and liabilities carried at fair value. The different levels are defined as follows;

Level 1: quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities;

Level 2: inputs other than quoted prices included within Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly (as prices) or indirectly (derived from prices); and

Level 3: inputs for the asset or liability that are not based on observable market data (unobservable inputs).

The following table presents the company's assets and liabilities measured and recognised at fair value at 30 September 2013 and 30 September 2012:

At 30 September 2013	Level 1	Level 2	Level 3	Total
$'000
Assets
Financial Assets	59	-	-	59
Derivatives used for hedging	6,996	-	-	6,996
Total Assets	7,055	-	-	7,055
At 30 September 2012	Level 1	Level 2	Level 3	Total
$'000
Assets
Financial Assets	46	-	-	46
Total Assets	46	-	-	46
Liabilities
Derivatives used for hedging	2,759	-	-	2,759
Total Liabilities	2,759	-	-	2,759

The carrying values less impairment provisions of trade receivables and payables are assumed to approximate their fair values due to their short-term nature. The fair value of financial liabilities for disclosure purposes are assumed to approximate their fair values due to their short term nature, as they are settled within 12 months.

The fair value of financial assets through the profit and loss is based on quoted market prices at the end of the reporting period. The quoted market price used for financial assets held by the company is the current bid price. The fair value of the unrealised currency hedge payable/receivable is derived using a valuation technique that is based from observable market data. In determining the fair value, the company applied judgement that the impact of prepayment rates, rates of estimated credit losses and interest rates or discount rates are immaterial as the underlying hedge instrument is expected to be settled within the next 12 months.

as at 30 September 2013 (continued)

3. Critical accounting estimates and judgements

Estimates and judgements are continually evaluated and are based on historical experience and other factors, including expectations of future events that may have a financial impact on the entity and that are believed to be reasonable under the circumstances.

a) Critical accounting estimates and assumptions

The company makes estimates and assumptions concerning the future. The resulting accounting estimates will, by definition, seldom equal the actual results. The key estimates and assumptions that are recorded in the financial statements are:

Pharmaceutical donations

World Vision Australia uses independent sources for valuing pharmaceutical donations. Exit market data is specifically sourced for the most accurate representation of a fair value for significant donation amounts. The exit market excludes developed countries and includes only those countries where such pharmaceuticals are sold regularly in large volumes.

For the financial year ended 30 September 2013, $39,300,315 (2012: $27,113,634) of income and $39,300,315 (2012: $27,113,634) of disbursements were recognised from pharmaceutical donations. There was no amount held as pharmaceutical inventory as at 30 September 2013 (2012: $0).

Other donated goods (includes food donated by International agencies)

World Vision Australia uses the wholesale value or an independent valuation for valuing donated goods. During 2013, $25,063,736 (2012: $21,062,219) of income and $23,733,125 (2012: $20,596,153) of disbursements were recognised as donated goods. As at 30 September 2013, $2,323,934 (2012: $979,030) was held in inventory.

There are no estimates or assumptions that have a significant risk of causing a material adjustment to the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities within the next financial year. No such financial assets or liabilities are recorded on the balance sheet as at 30 September 2013

b) Critical judgments in applying the entity's accounting policies

Other than that mentioned in Note 2(d), there are no areas that significant judgement has been applied to the company that has a significant impact upon the financial statements.

In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the financial report in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates made by the directors, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial report.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.
