

Bangladesh photo analysis worksheet (p. 16)

For you to do

1. In a small group, examine one or two photos closely and note the details in the table on the next page.
2. Walk around the classroom and look at all the photos of Bangladesh, then in your group discuss the questions below.
 - a. What did the images suggest to you about what life in Bangladesh is like? Consider any social, environmental and/or economic factors you observed that may impact people's lives.
 - b. Was there anything in the photos that surprised you? Anything that you did not expect to see?
 - c. What other aspects of life in Bangladesh do you think there might be, that are not represented in these images?
 - d. If you were to create a set of photos to represent life in a typical Australian community, what images would you use? How are these similar or different to the images of Bangladesh?
 - e. After seeing the photos, what questions do you have about what life in Bangladesh is like?

Photo analysis table

Hint: Remember to look closely at all the details of the photo – not just what's immediately obvious.

What is the subject of the photo?	What activities do you see in the photo? Is there evidence of previous activity?
Describe any people, objects and/or animals in the photo.	Describe the environment shown in the photo – both built and/or natural features.
What does the photo suggest about Bangladesh's economy, environment or society?	What questions do you have about the place in the photo or the people who live there?

